ADDITIONAL TRAINING

2020	Chancellor's Making Excellence Inclusive Graduate Division Diversity Certification Program University of California, Riverside. Graduate student participation in this Diversity Certificate Program will consider broad issues that affect higher and postsecondary education, as well as the depth of knowledge and experience gained across a variety of learning contexts. The various experiences, backgrounds, and attributes of learners have a significant impact on their engagement with learning, perceptions of campus climate, and their educational and social outcomes. Learner differences cross dimensions that are material, corporeal, and symbolic. Together, we will explore intersectional strategies for negotiating these differences in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the microdynamics of pedagogy and instruction</li> <li>• the agendas and representation within curriculum</li> <li>• the nuances of departmental politics</li> <li>• the organizational structures of the educational institution and its relations with the communities it serves</li> </ul>
2019-2020	University Teaching Certificate University of California, Riverside. The University of California, Riverside's Graduate Division created the University Teaching Certificate (UTC) Program as a two-quarter instructional training and certification program for graduate students. This highly competitive program is designed to assist graduate students interested in careers as university-level instructors to develop teaching and lecturing strategies, design a teaching philosophy, and become members of the professional teaching community. The goal of the UTC program is to equip graduate students with the necessary skills so that they can be regarded as both outstanding scholars and teachers in their continued work in academia.
2018	Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) Summer Program in Quantitative Methods of Social Research University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. The ICPSR Summer Program provides rigorous, hands-on training in statistical techniques, research methodologies, and data analysis. ICPSR Summer Program courses emphasize the integration of methodological strategies with the theoretical and practical concerns that arise in research on substantive issues. I completed the following courses: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Bayesian Modeling for the Social Sciences I</li> <li>• Multilevel Models I: Introduction and Application</li> <li>• Mathematics for Social Scientists III</li> </ul> Please click here to view my certificate of completion and click here to view the grades I received.
2017	Macroeconomic Forecasting IMF Institute for Capacity Development. A 9-week course focused on developing forecasts and economic models for scenario analysis used in the design and implementation of macroeconomic policy. Certificate available here .
2015	Plotting in R American Statistical Association, Orange Country-Log Beach Chapter. A workshop focused on a data centric introduction to using R, in a reproducible way, incorporating lots of data graphics and exploratory data analysis.
